DEMOCRATS MAKE WHIRLWIND TOUR

Take in Fourteen Adams County in One Day, Including a Mass Meeting at Gettysburg on Tuesday Evening.

After visiting thirteen Adams County towns the Democratic campaigning party reached Gettysburg on Tuesday evening about seven o'clock and an hour and a half later held a mass meeting in the Court House.

In the party were Senator Webster Grim, Democratic nominee for governor; Thomas H. Greevey, candidate for lieutenant governor; and J. I. Blakeslee, candidate for secretary of internal affairs together with the various Democratic candidates in this county. They made the fastest tour of the county towns which has probably ever been attempted by a candidate or any other person.

Starting from Hanover at an early hour Tuesday morning the first stop was made at McSherrystown where a number of business men greeted the party. The cigarmakers, who compose a large proportion of the population of the town, were at work and unable to attend the reception. Brief speeches were made by Mr. Grim and several other candidates and then Littlestown was started for. A brief stop was made there. Other towns visited in the same way were Pottsville, New Oxford, Abington, East Berlin, Hampton, York Springs, Heidlersburg, Biglerville, Arendtsville, Mummessburg, Cashtown, and McKnightstown.

Several automobiles were used and fast time was made between each of the places while every minute was utilized during the stops. Mr. Grim had nothing new to give to his auditors other than the arguments which he has been presenting for the past few weeks. He did, however, attack Berry with more than usual vehemence, showing more antipathy to the Key-stone candidate than at any time during the campaign.

The campaigners reached here about seven o'clock and after getting supper at the Eagle Hotel were escorted to the Court House by the Citizens' Band. The attendance there was not as good as usual at political meetings but the candidates found an interested audience, nevertheless.

Hon. William T. Ziegler presided at the meeting. Mr. Grim's speech was in part a denunciation of the Penrose Machine, the advocacy of state pensions for Civil War veterans, and the arraignment of the policy which is alleged to appropriate state money to charitable institutions over which the state has no control. Mr. Grim denied that the recent talk of fusion was in any way a trick.

Mr. Greevey in his address talked along the lines of a fight against Republican taxes and the tariff. He attributed the high cost of living to the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and gave a number of examples to prove his statements.

James I. Blakeslee also arraigned the gang leaders of the opposition. Other speeches were made by Andrew R. Broadbent, Democratic nominee for Congress and by William McSherry, Esq.

Franklin and Cumberland counties were next on the itinerary of the Democratic candidates.

SHOOTS HUGE COOPER HAWK

Jacob Mayer, an enthusiastic sportsman, killed a large cooper hawk, on McKees hill, near the Virgin copper mines, near Charman. The bird was a large one and measured 3 feet 10 inches from tip to tip of wings.

Mr. Mayer was hunting squirrels when he noticed one large grey fellow on a high projecting limb barking in a peculiar manner. The hunter waited and soon discovered the cause of the squirrel's agitation—a large cooper hawk floating above the tree. As the hawk swooped down on the squirrel, which skillfully eluded it, Mr. Mayer pulled the trigger and the bird fell to the ground, shot through the head.

Mr. Mayer will have the hawk stuffed and mounted by a taxidermist.

ACTIVE DAYS IN Y. M. C. A.

Gettysburg Young Men's Christian Association Takes on Renewed Vigor with Opening of Fall Months. Rooms More Attractive.

The Gettysburg Young Men's Christian Association has taken on renewed activity with the advent of the autumn months and the rooms on Baltimore street every day and evening are the gathering place for many of the young men of town.

Among the new activities of the organization will be a mandolin and guitar club, an orchestra and a double quartet. The association contains among its members a great deal of musical talent while a number of prospective members also possess no little ability in this line.

The weekly religious meetings have been resumed, the first having been held last Friday evening when music was furnished by the St. James orchestra and an address given by Rev. D. W. Woods. Another similar meeting will be held Thursday evening of this week. The speaker and special music will be announced later.

Through the efforts of the members the rooms have lately been made considerably more attractive and a number of other improvements are contemplated so that during the winter months the place should prove a most popular resort for the young men of the town.

The Gettysburg Ministerial Association has shown its approval of the work of the association by setting aside this coming Sunday as Y. M. C. A. day when the offerings in all of the churches will be devoted to the work of the town association.

NO TROLLEY TO SUMMIT

Trolley People Decide not to Build Line from Pen Mar to Blue Ridge Summit until Rights of Way have been Secured.

The construction of the trolley extension from Pen Mar to Blue Ridge Summit was practically postponed for an indefinite time at a meeting of the directors of the trolley company. There was a full attendance of the directors.

The matter of beginning the extension from Pen Mar to the Summit was debated at length. It had been the purpose to open the bids for the work and award the contract, but this was deferred after discussion.

It was said that several rights of way remained to be secured and the directors voted not to begin work until all these rights had been obtained.

It is not known how soon these rights can be acquired.

There was much time given to the discussion of the proposed extension from Red bridge park to Shippensburg.

At a recent meeting several parties from Shippensburg pledged their town to the purchase of $75,000 of bonds of the street railway company for the purpose of this extension.

It was decided by the directors not to undertake this extension until there have been subscribed $100,000 for bonds by Shippensburg residents and until all the rights of way have been secured.

JURY ACQUITS LENEVE GIRL

Dr. Crippen's Companion Freed After Short Trial.

JUDGE'S CHARGE AIDED HER

Declared Not Guilty of Being an Accessory After the Fact in Murder of Belle Elmore.

London, Oct. 26.—After a trial lasting but a few hours in the New Bailey criminal court, a jury found Ethel Clara Leneve not guilty as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Cora Belle Crippen, for whose death her husband, Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, will die on the gallows on Nov. 8.

From the first Miss Leneve has maintained innocence of any knowledge of the crime, but the crown charged that her behavior after the disappearance of Mrs. Crippen, or Belle Elmore, as she was known on the stage, was such as to betray a guilty knowledge of the murder.

When arraigned Miss Leneve pleaded not guilty and witnesses were examined by the prosecution to show that she had periods of great mental distress following Belle Elmore's death.

The crown prosecutor introduced only such evidence as had been brought out in the earlier hearings.

Under Influence of Crippen.

Miss Leneve's counsel asked the jury to bear in mind that his client had been under the influence of Crippen, one of the most dangerous criminals of recent years, since she was sixteen years of age.

This, he asserted, accounted for her flight with the doctor. There was no proof that she had guilty knowledge of the crime. Counsel said that he took upon his own shoulders the responsibility for not putting Miss Leneve in the witness box.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, in summing up, said that he saw no reason why Dr. Crippen should have told Miss Leneve a story different from that which he told to others.

Case For the Prosecution.

When the prisoner had pleaded Lord Chief Justice Alverstone called Richard D. Muir, crown prosecutor, who outlined the case against the accused.

It was clear, Mr. Muir said, that the intrigue between Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve constituted the motive for the murder of Crippen's wife. He dwelt particularly upon the evidence of Mrs. Jackson, Miss Leneve's landlady, at the preliminary hearing, and which will be introduced at this trial.

The illness of the accused on the night of her interview with Mrs. Jackson was not, the prosecutor said, an ordinary illness, but a condition of horror, the explanation of which was the knowledge that had come to her that Crippen had murdered his wife.

There was a sequel to the Crippen case when the high court imposed a fine of $1000 upon Assistant Editor Perris for contempt of court in permitting publication in the London Chronicle of a story asserting that Dr. Crippen had purchased hydrocyanic acid and confessed to the murder of his wife. The court ordered that Perris be imprisoned until the fine is paid.

$265 by Threats.

The Hague, Oct. 26.—The international arbitration court delivered its award in the case between the United States and Venezuela regarding the exclusive privileges held by the Orinoco Steamship company, which were repudiated by former President Castro.

The steamship company is a New Jersey corporation, and the American government has been pressing its claims for settlement.

The international tribunal quashed the decision on four points given by Dr. Charles Barge on Feb. 22, 1904, as umpire in the dispute and awarded the American company $46,867, with 3 per cent interest from June 16, 1903, as well as $7000 costs and counsel fees. The award is to be paid by Venezuela within two months.

The tribunal rejected the contentions of the United States on the other points in dispute.

He Needed the Job.

At a meeting of a state medical society the secretary read a letter from the counsel of one of our faraway possessions urging the need of a resident physician in his district. In the moment of silence that followed the reading a young man in the hall arose and said modestly: "I wish you would put me down for that place, sir. It sounds good to me. My practice here died last night."—Success Magazine.

An Anecdote of Pope.

There is an old anecdote of Alexander Pope concerning one of the old watermen who were employed for many years in rowing Pope on the Thames. Pope was in the habit of having his sedan chair lifted into the punt. If the waterman was fine he let down the glasses; if cold he pulled them up. He would sometimes say to the waterman:

"John, I am going to repeat some verses. Take care to remember them the next time I go out."

When that time came Pope would say:

"John, where are the verses I told you of?"

"I have forgotten them, sir."

"John, you are a blockhead. I must write them down for you."

John said that no one thought of saying when speaking of him, "Mr. Pope," but that he was always called "Mr. Alexander."

The Original Encyclopedia.

The first real encyclopedia was Pliny's "Natural History." This work was an extensive one, numbering some thirty-seven volumes and dealing with all the then known facts of the world. Pliny, who died A. D. 79, collected the data for his work in his leisure intervals while engaged in public affairs. The "Natural History" was for its time an amazing production, treated of some 20,000 facts and was of very high authority throughout the entire middle ages. Forty-three editions of the work were printed before the year 1530, and no scholar's library was considered complete without it.—New York American.

Wakeful Night.

A rather imaginative Washington lady decided she had insomnia. She couldn't sleep, she said. One morning she was more than usually depressed.

"What's the matter, dear?" asked the husband. "Another sleepless night?"

"Worse than that," she replied gloomily. "I did manage to drop off to sleep, and I dreamed all the time I was asleep that I was awake."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Cures Rheumatism

If it Don't You Can Get Your Money Back, Says People's Drug Store.

Now when People's Drug Store, the well known druggist, makes such an offer as that, where, Oh, where is the man or woman full of Uric Acid poison, which is the same as Rheumatism, who is going to turn it down?

People's Drug Store have sold a whole lot of Rheuma these last few months, and if it didn't do as advertised they could not afford to make the offer.

Here is more proof: Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism for about 26 years, and the disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pain."—Feb. 20, 1910.

Rheuma never shirks its duty. It begins with the first dose to act on the kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, and to eliminate Rheumatic poison from the whole system. 50 cts at People's Drug Store, or mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Send for free trial bottle.

No More Dandruff

People's Drug Store Sells the Remedy That is Guaranteed to Kill all Dandruff Germs.

Of course you and every intelligent reader of the Gettysburg Times knows that dandruff is caused by a germ.

Dr. Sagerlund, the great French physician, proved this beyond a doubt.

"In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in America, that is guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks, or money back."

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle today and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time, the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

Here's proof of what Parisian Sage has done: it will do more. It is the finest hair grower and hair dressing in the world, and people who use it regularly will never grow bald. Mrs. John Stoner, Evansville, Ind., writes on June 2, 1910:

"I used Parisian Sage and found it very successful; it removes dandruff and gives the hair life; I only used two bottles. I know it is a cure for dandruff."

Large bottles 50 cents at People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every carton.

BEATS DREXEL'S HEIGHT RECORD

Johnstone Makes New Mark For Altitude Flying.

BRAVED SNOW AND RAIN

Daring Aviator Circled Up Until Snow Began to Freeze on His Glasses. De Lesseps Lost Bearings in a Fog.

New York, Oct. 26.—Ralph Johnstone, at the international aviation tournament at Belmont park climbed until a snowstorm at an altitude of 7203 feet compelled him to coast back to earth, but his climb was entirely satisfactory to young Mr. Johnstone, in that it established a new American altitude record.

On the previous day J. Armstrong Drexel had taken the American altitude record of 6175 feet away from the Wright machines, established by Walter Brookings at Atlantic City, July 9, by soaring to a height of 7105 feet, and in a monoplane at that. To win it back unexpectedly in an old type Wright biplane explains why Wilbur Wright waved his hat in joy at Johnstone's feat.

He started up in long spirals and continued to go up. The spatter of rain that hit upturned faces as the crowd looked up and southeast toward the Johnstone speck got to Johnstone before it drove the crowd to cover. At first it was just a fine drizzle up where he sailed, hardly thick enough to conceal him entirely from the watchers below. But as he got toward his record mark the rain changed to wet snow on his goggles.

Then the snow began to freeze in a crust upon the goggles and he had to watch for a steady moment to pull them off. By this time the wind and cold and sleet snow almost a mile and a half above the real estate had left him blinded and numb, and the storm wasn't helping his engines. The engines still were working, but Johnstone's muscles were approaching the quitting hour.

As he started finally toward the earth he slid into weather that blotted him entirely from view. At a height of about 4000 feet and to the east of the aviation field, Johnstone dove out of a mist bank with his engine throttled down, and he finished his flight with a long volplane dive to a spot a few feet from his starting point.

Count Lost in Fog. Count de Lesseps earlier had tried for altitude in his Blériot, but at a height of 6391 feet he began to lose his bearings in the fog and rain aloft. Below him, Count de Lesseps said later, he could see three race tracks, and when he at last was sure which was the Belmont track he dropped while the dropping was good.

The hourly distance competitions were not particularly interesting. In the first of the day Latham, in his Antoinette, covered twenty laps, a distance of 31.07 miles. Grahame-White covered only two laps, his Farman biplane giving him all kinds of trouble.

In the second hourly distance contest there was considerable jockeying by Mars and McCurdy, of the Curtiss camp, against Grahame-White, but the latter won out.

The distribution of prize money was as follows: Latham, $400; Grahame-White, $350; Mars, $100; McCurdy, $50; Count de Lesseps, $250; Hoxsey, $575; Johnstone, $625; Radley, $500; and Moisant, $250.

The total earnings up to date are as follows: Grahame-White, $1700; Hoxsey, $1575; Moisant, $1200; Johnstone, $775; Latham, $650; Count de Lesseps, $600; Drexel, $500; Radley, $500; Aubrun, $150; Brookins, $100; Mars, $100; Ely, $100; McCurdy, $50; Willard, $50.

ODD CURE FOR BLINDNESS

Negro Drives Tack Into Back of Victim's Head.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—William Williams, a negro, is in jail here, charged with swindling by an odd cure for blindness of his discovery.

His remedy was to drive a tack into the back of a blind negro's skull and charge $2.50 for the operation.

Robert Ward, the victim, told the court that the tack was not very painful, but that Williams' manner of taking the $2.50 "hurt" "sicker."

Girl Elopes With Cripple.

York, Pa., Oct. 26.—In a letter to her mother, Bessie, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, told of her elopement and marriage to Harry Mayer. The parents of the girl opposed her marriage to Mayer, for the reason that he had been a cripple from birth and could only get about on crutches.

Why the English Went to Egypt.

An essay on Egypt by one of Blackburn's brightest school children: "Pharaoh was noted for making bricks, and he had his name stamped on every brick. He was a very extravagant ruler, and in 1870 he brought the country into debt and oppressed the people and they had to work for nothing. He was very cruel. England then sent Lord Cromer, and he has ruled Egypt wisely and well."—London Globe.

OLDFIELD DEFEATS JOHNSON IN RACE

Speed King Had Easy Victory Over Pugilist.

New York, Oct. 26.—Barney Oldfield easily defeated Jack Johnson, the pugilist, in a match motor race on the Sheepshead Bay track.

Oldfield drove a Knox 60 car and Johnson the Thomas flyer 60-90. Oldfield's mechanic was Frank Brown, and McMervin, of Chicago, acted in the same capacity for Johnson.

The conditions were best two in three five-mile heats, and between the heats Oldfield drove his big Biltzen Benz car of 200-horse-power against time for one mile on a circular track.

Oldfield ran away from Johnson in the first heat of five miles, which was covered in 4 minutes and 44 seconds. Oldfield was quicker to get away and he made every post on the course a winning one, finishing about a quarter of a mile ahead of the colored champion pugilist.

Oldfield won the second heat and the match from Johnson, covering the five miles in 5 minutes and 14 4-5 seconds. Both were slow in starting, and passing the grand stand the first time the cars were close together, with Oldfield on the rail. Rounding the paddock turn Oldfield took a lead of fifty yards and finally won easily by this margin.

Tinker has declared himself a candidate for third base. He is anxious to retire as a shortstop and more than anxious to become a third baseman. He is determined never again to play short.

A POET AT WORK.

The Bumping May Have Helped Wordsworth Out a Bit.

To see a poem in the making, the uninitiated are apt to think, should prove an interesting sight. Unfortunately they will probably be disappointed if the description, quoted by the Rev. H. D. Rawnsley in "Literary Associations of the English Lakes," of Wordsworth at work is to be credited. An old retainer of the family furnished this account of Wordsworth walking up and down his terrace composing:

"Mr. Wordsworth went bumping and boing about, and she, Miss Dorothy, kept close behind him and picked up bits as he let fall, and she'd take 'em down and put 'em on paper for him, and you may be very well sure as how she didn't understand or make sense out of 'em, and I doubt that he didn't have much idea about 'em either himself. But, however, there's a gay lot of fowk as wad, I dare say.

"He would start a-bumping at one end of the walk, and it was 'Bum, bum, bum!' till he stopped, and then 'Bum, bum, bum!' back again. Then he'd set down and get a bit of paper out and write a bit; then get up and 'Bum, bum, bum!' and go on a-bumping right down the terrace and back again. I suppose the bumping helped him out a bit."

Cynical.

"The course of true love doesn't always run smooth," sighed the young widow.

"That's right," rejoined the old bachelor. "Sometimes it ends in marriage."—Chicago News.

Early Completion of Gettysburg Building Assured

Through the untiring efforts of Representative D.F. Lafean, the citizens of Gettysburg, are going to be in possession of a federal building costing $100,000 which will be erected and ready for occupancy by the time of the holding of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle in 1913. The site, costing $25,000, has already been purchased by the government. After several personal calls on the officials of the treasury department at Washington having the matter in charge, Mr. Lafean has been assured that the contract for the new building in Gettysburg will be awarded before April next. This will enable the contractor to work during the seasons of 1911 and 1912 and give ample time in which to complete the structure before the fiftieth anniversary celebration begins.

Had it not been for Mr. Lafean's persistence in the matter, it would have taken the treasury department months additional in which to complete the work. The plans for all federal buildings are prepared by the supervising architect of the treasury and they must all take their regular order. But, always attentive to his duties and the wishes of his constituents, Mr. Lafean explained to the officials at Washington that it was the hope that the Gettysburg building should be ready before the celebration. He, accordingly, requested that the plans for the structure be taken out of their regular order and advanced. This request was complied with, and work on the sketches advanced several months.

While the treasury department has fixed a rigid time limit of eighteen months on all the buildings for which contracts have been awarded, the acting secretary of the treasury is of the opinion that the Gettysburg building can be completed and ready for occupancy within fourteen months after the signing of the contract.

Rhodes Scholarship In Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 26.—Examinations for the Cecil Rhodes scholarships in Oxford university, England, are being conducted in the free public library by Professor Louis Bevier, of Rutgers college, and Professor W. G. Gillespie and Professor D. G. Herring, of Princeton university. Eight candidates are being examined. They represent all sections of the state.

500 Students Strike.

Boulder, Colo., Oct. 26.—Because seventeen students were suspended by the faculty of the State university here for hazing, the entire student body, numbering over 500, went on strike, and the classrooms are deserted. Student guards were posted at all entrances to the campus to prevent faint hearted brethren from entering.

Bathtub Trust Goes on Grill.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The department of justice will begin taking testimony in the government's suit against the so-called "bathtub trust" in Pittsburgh on Oct. 31. Lindsey C. Spencer, a Baltimore attorney, has been appointed a special master to hear the proceedings.

The Point of View.

The world in which a man lives shapes itself chiefly by the way in which he looks at it, and so it proves different to different men. To one it is barren, dull and superficial; to another, rich, interesting and full of meaning. On hearing of the interesting events which have happened in the course of a man's experience many people will wish that similar things had happened in their lives, too, completely forgetting that they should be envious rather of the mental attitude which lent these events the significance they possess when he describes them. To a man of genius they were interesting adventures, but to the dull perceptions of an ordinary individual they would have been stale, everyday occurrences. —Schopenhauer.

FRIEND BELIEVES AERONAUTS SAFE

Says They Carried Provisions to Last a Month.

CANADIANS ARE GIVING AID

Air Racers Were Thoroughly Equipped For Long Flight—$20 Reward Offered For Missing Men.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—Preparations to send a balloon with supplies after Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the crew of the missing America II, are being hastened.

S. Louis von Phil, who will pilot the relief aerostat, left St. Louis for Canada. He plans to begin his aerial hunt from Sault Ste. Marie.

That the search for the balloonists is being made by two countries is shown by the telegrams which have been received by the Aero Club of St. Louis within the last twenty-four hours. These have come from the heads of the Canadian government and from the signal corps of the United States army and officials of the Canadian railway systems. Altogether sixty telegrams have been received from persons hunting for the America II balloon.

G. L. Mattice, district engineer of the National Transcontinental railway, telegraphed from North Bay, Ontario, that he has wired north and will report later. Mr. Mattice's jurisdiction extends over the region in which the local club officials believe the America II will be found. Other district engineers of the railway have replied in like tones.

A reward of $200 was offered by a company of fur dealers, which has 10,000 correspondents in Canada, for information about the missing aeronauts. Notices of the reward were mailed to the Canadian trappers.

According to Captain John Berry, of St. Louis, who had charge of the inflation of the America II, the last words of Hawley before starting in the race were:

"We are good to stay up seventy or eighty hours, and expect to break every record for distance and endurance. I know we are bound for the Canadian wilderness, but no timber will stop us. We shall sail as long as the balloon has an ounce of lifting power and take our chances on being found."

"I believe," said Berry, "that Hawley and Post are now down and safe, far in the north of Canada. They told me they had enough food capsules to sustain them a month."

"Hawley is a daredevil, whose one principle is to keep up as long as his balloon will carry him. Everybody knows Post's intrepidity from his presence of mind in making an entry in his log book while falling in a balloon in Berlin."

"If they had a bag of sand left they would stop for no wilderness or forest. They had revolvers to shoot game, plenty of ammunition and heavy clothing. I never saw a balloon so completely and scientifically equipped as was the America II."

Believes Balloon Lost.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 26.—That the balloon America II was lost on Lake Superior is the belief of W. C. Devereaux, weather forecaster of Milwaukee.

"There was a 'low' moving this way when the balloons started from St. Louis," said Mr. Devereaux, "and this 'low' caused the wind to blow from the south about the time the balloons reached Lake Michigan. This south wind, of course, took the America II directly north, as is proved by messages from Hawley."

Kills Police Chief.

New Orleans, Oct. 26.—A special from Ceiba, Spanish Honduras, says that Antonio Davila, nephew of President Davila, is under arrest there, charged with the murder of Jose Ballesteros, director of police. The latter was killed following a warning given by Ballesteros to a woman with whom young Davila associated, that disorderly conduct at her house must cease. Davila left the house with the police chief, but when a short distance from the place he drew a revolver and shot the officer dead.

ROBBED IN CHURCH

Thief Stole $24 and Diamond Ring From Woman as She Kneelt in Pew.

New York, Oct. 26.—While Mrs. Mary Byrnes was attending early mass in the Church of St. Rose of Lima, in West One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street, her pocketbook, containing $24.55 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $100, was stolen from her.

Mrs. Byrnes had placed her handbag on the seat beside her when she entered the church. When she looked for it a few moments later the bag was open and the pocketbook gone.

No one had been in the pew with her, and Mrs. Byrnes could not recall having seen any person in the pew behind her own.

Mrs. Byrnes had been ill for some time, and the loss of the ring has seriously affected her condition. It was given to her many years ago by her husband, now dead.

VENEZUELA ORDERED TO PAY AMERICANS

The Hague Decides Orinoco Claims in Favor of Company.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Fear that her daughter would be kidnapped caused Mrs. Eva J. Huffing to pay tribute demanded in a series of letters, which it developed in the United States court were written by a member of her own household.

This was shown when H. H. Downer was arraigned before United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote on a charge of writing threatening letters.

Downer had been a trusted roomer at Mrs. Huffing's home. Two months ago he was married and brought his wife to live in the house. Shortly afterward Mrs. Huffing, who had just inherited $1000 from her father, received a letter signed "Black Hand" and demanding $150.

Downer was greatly interested and advised Mrs. Huffing to regard all stipulations and pay the money. Five days later she received another demand, which Downer advised her to pay. This was repeated until she had paid $275. Then she advised postal inspectors and Downer was arrested. He was held to the grand jury in $5000 bonds.

The regular quarterly dividends of 1 1/2 per cent on the preferred and 1 1/4 per cent on the common stock were declared.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The state department has been informed by American Consul General John H. Snodgrass, at Moscow, that the Russian council of ministers has unanimously decided to permit the Jews free domicile in twelve villages from which heretofore they have been excluded. This is an exception to the May laws of 1882.

A. R. BRODBECK

a Man of Sound Judgment and Great Experience. Sketch of a Busy and Successful Career.

Andrew R. Brodbeck, the Democratic candidate for congress, is a man whom it is a pleasure to know, and his career may be studied profitably by the young man who is ambitious to rise in the world. All his life Mr. Brodbeck has been a hustling and successful man of business, and an active and consistent Democrat, always devoted to the best interests of his party and contributing every effort he could command in securing the success of Democratic candidates at the polls.

He is a native of York county, having been born at Jefferson, Codorus township, April 11, 1860. Mr. Brodbeck received his education in the public and academic schools of York county. He taught in the public schools from 1878 to 1880.

At the age of nineteen years he embarked in the mercantile business, and later was extensively engaged in the sale of agricultural machinery and the manufacture of commercial fertilizers.

His ancestors all being steadfast Democrats, he was reared under the influence of the sturdy school of Democracy and naturally was led to take an active interest in the promotion of the principles of the party of his forefathers. He was elected a member of the Democratic county committee a few months after attaining his majority and before he cast his first vote at a general election, while a resident of stannich old Heidelberg township.

At the age of 22 years he was elected a delegate to the Democratic county convention, and at the age of 23 he was elected judge of the election of Heidelberg township. When 29 years of age he was a candidate for sheriff of York county, and received the second highest vote in the convention, this being his first candidacy for the position.

At the age of 35 years he was nominated and elected sheriff of York county, receiving 128 out of 156 votes in the convention, and a plurality of 2,254 at the general election over his opponent, George W. S. Loucks, then mayor of York city. Mr. Brodbeck served as sheriff from 1896 to 1899. Subsequently he was elected several times a member of the Democratic state central committee.

He also represented the county as a delegate to several Democratic state and county conventions. He was also honored by election as alternate delegate to the Democratic national convention which met in Kansas City, Mo., in 1900.

Mr. Brodbeck is deeply interested in educational institutions, and is at present a member of the board of trustees of the Central Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio. He is also a member of the board of directors of Ursinus College at Collegeville, Pa., and a director of the Woman's College at Frederick, Md.

He is a member of the Reformed church and has been a delegate to the Potomac Synod for eight consecutive years, and was recently elected for the fourth time as representative to the triennial meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed church of the United States of America, which will be held at Canton, Ohio, in 1911.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Hanover Savings Fund society, and director and treasurer of the Hanover Printing company. He also holds other positions of business trust.

From this it will be seen that Mr. Brodbeck is a man of varied activities and broad experience. All of this has contributed to make him a broad and liberal minded man. There is nothing narrow in his make up. He is willing to allow other men right to their opinions, while at the same time he has firmly grounded convictions of his own. He is possessed of that ripe judgment which comes through years of such experience as he has had and which makes him valuable in any position of public trust. He will make an ideal congressman, ever ready to serve his constituents in all honorable ways, and firmly declining to take part in any action that is not fair and just. In casting his ballot for Mr. Brodbeck no voter is taking any chance, for he will be casting it for the highest type of American citizenship, and it should be counted as a real privilege to aid in the election of such a man.

France Has Run the Gamut.

No other modern nation has undergone changes more frequent, more radical, more sudden, bloody and dramatic. In forms of government France has boxed the compass—has been feudal, monarchial, imperial, republican and revolutionary. She has sounded the depths of royal absolutism and of communistic anarchy; has made and unmade constitutions in the pathetic effort to get one that would fit; has known a military despotism which bludgeoned the women to marry and bear children in order that Napoleon might be continuously supplied with troops; has known an absolute monarchy where a graceful manner was more effective at court than a head well filled with sense and has known a government of the rabble under which there was an insurance against property and death sentences passed against citizens for the sin of wearing aristocratic names and clean shirts.—From "The Story of France," by Thomas E. Watson.
